A Community Reflection: What Are the Archetypal Themes Arising in Our Country's Current Events?

Fee: $10 members; $15 non-members

For this evening's gathering, the C.G. Jung Society will offer an opportunity for attendees to reflect and dialogue on archetypal themes arising in our lives as a result of recent sociopolitical events. The discussion will focus especially on the images and symbols that have arisen in the dreams and imaginations of those present. Together, we will explore ways in which a Jungian perspective may inform and encourage constructive attitudes and approaches to some of the sociopolitical challenges we're currently facing.

"The time is ripe for the unconscious and conscious dominants to meet each other. The death of the old dominant is indicated by the fact that the king is about to die. This corresponds to the fact that the God-image, the collective dominant of the Western psyche, is moribund. In preparation for its death, it opens up an ancient tomb; in other words, it opens up the unconscious. This activates the feminine principle, which had been dead and buried in the very same tomb, in the unconscious. As the tomb is opened, the unconscious is penetrated by consciousness . . . and a revitalization occurs." - Edward Edinger

of the Apocalypse and the Sun-
Moon Woman*
by
*Judy Jackson

The Archetype of the Apocalypse, a psycho-spiritual experience of the end of the world as we know it, happens both in the psyche of individuals and in our collective world today. Judy will highlight the image of the Sun-Moon Woman as She appears in John's apocalyptic vision in the Book of Revelation and in Jung's commentary about Her in his book, Answer to Job. Judy will also share her own powerful experiences of this archetype and of the multifaceted nature of God, experiences that led her to encounter the living reality of the Conscious Feminine, Sophia.

Saturday Workshop

March 11, 10am-3pm

Bringing the Body to Consciousness by Judy Jackson

We will work together experientially using guided imagery, music, dance, movement, sounding our voices, and journaling---all expressions that help our unconscious "soft animal body" reach the level of the Conscious Feminine. For your comfort, please wear loose, comfortable clothing, and bring a yoga mat, pillow and blanket. We will be lying on the floor during guided imagery sessions.

Workshop Fee: $40 members; $45 non-members; $20-students.

Reservations: Call 719-201-4899 or Email donnavanhookhome@aol.com

Bring your own lunch; snacks, coffee and tea will be provided

Judy Jackson began her private psychotherapy practice 35 years ago. Her clinical work was based on body-mind healing principles and on Jung's theory of individuation. Her 3-year Intensive Leadership Training with the Jungian Analyst and mythopoetic author Marion Woodman gave experiential life to her professional work. She is a student of Mike Vargas, a Taos artist who mentors her painting of the sacred, healing archetypes.

The Archetypal Heavens By Michele DesLauriers

In the psyche, the masculine and feminine principles complement and balance one another. We find these universal principles symbolized in the planets of our solar system. Each planet carries archetypal meanings both in the outer world and in the inner world of meaning. For this presentation Michele will explore, using image and myth, the masculine and feminine polarities found in the two great lights of the heavens, the Sun and the Moon, and in the planets Venus and Mars.

"The purpose of life is the investigation of the Sun, the Moon, and the heavens."

– Anaxagoras 459 BC

Michele DesLauriers was introduced to the work of Carl Jung in 1980 at the Center for Sacred Psychology in Los Angeles, where she also served on staff as a spiritual director. She has a graduate degree in Applied Spiritual Theology. She recently retired from Saint Mary-Corwin Medical Center as Vice President of Mission Integration.

The Annunciation: Transcendence Expressed Through Art from the Renaissance

By Kathryn Kuisle, Ph.D.

In this lecture, Dr. Kuisle will explore the symbolism and depth of meaning in the long-ago story of the Annunciation. The story – wherein the angel, Gabriel, appeared to Mary, the Virgin, and gave her a startling message – conveys an image that resonates with us still. The paintings we'll be viewing were created by a variety of artists from the Renaissance period. Each one expresses a unique interpretation of this archetypal event. Kathryn will reflect on how these artists attempted to express “transcendence” in a portrayal of the moment of “the annunciation.” Carl Jung described this moment as symbolizing an experience “that grips us or falls upon us as from above”, an experience that is possible in our own psychological development. Kathryn will elaborate on Jung’s contributions to depth psychology, emphasizing his work on the subject of transcendence and “the transcendent function.”

Kathryn Kuisle, Ph.D., is a graduate of the C. G. Jung Institute in Zurich and Union Institute and University in Cincinnati, is currently president of the Jung Society of Colorado Springs and a Jungian analyst with a private practice in Colorado Springs and Denver. She also teaches at the C. G. Jung Institute of Colorado in Denver and at Regis University in the Masters in Counseling Program. Her website is www.kkuisle.com.

Dream Group Winter-Spring 2017

A dream group is an opportunity to join with others in exploring the wonder and message of your dreams. You are invited to bring a dream. Each week, dreams are shared. Participants take an active role, via questions, in helping the dreamer open her or his dream to deeper meaning. The dreamer is the interpreter of the dream. All dreams are held Sacred.

Except for January, the dream group will meet on the first and third Tuesdays of the month.
